

Celebrating in Paris.

My friends gathering for my birthday was a great gift. In our busy lives, taking the time to share laughs is precious.

I wanted my birthday to be a fun evening to remember. By shooting so many weddings I've realized that celebrations are a beautiful way to create memories.

I'd like to thank Annie Brabler for styling my party so beautifully and Polly Alexandre for capturing the day on film.

